Name of Group: Orquesta la Leyenda, bandleader Ted David
Number of people in the group: 8
Style of music: Classic Latin (especially Cuban), Son Montuno, Guaracha, Mambo, Chachachá, Guajira, Guaguancó, Descarga and Latin jazz. We are NOT your typical salsa/ merengue/cumbia band like most of the Latin groups in the area.
Amplification needs: A 12-channel board, power amp, speakers and speaker cables. We will supply mikes, mike cables, piano & bass amps, direct boxes if the piano & bass will also go thru the PA. It is also possible (I will keep you informed) that I will have upgraded my 8-channel mixer to a 16-channel mixer by that time.

Name of Group or if Solo your stage name: My name is Stephen Svoboda, the dance performance group is called Danzamarina and is run by dancer Micaela Mar.

Number of people in the group: There are about 12-15 dancers in Danzamarina. I often perform solo, sometimes with one other guitarist and/or pianist, and with varying number of dancers.

Type of music/style: I perform solo classical, bossa nova (Brazilian) and flamenco on a nylon stringed Spanish guitar. The dancers are capable of flamenco and Spanish classical/ballet. Some of the choreographed dance pieces are performed to recorded music but we are working together on more pieces.

Amplification needs: I can bring my own amplifier but for large shows I prefer to have this handled for me.

Can you supply your own amps and/or backline: Yes

Number of people in the group: 3
Type of music/style: Rock
Amplification needs: For playing a restaurant/club, we have our own bass and guitar amplification. If needed, we can also provide our own vocal amplification.
For a large venue, we would need to use an extra PA system, but this is often provided by the restaurant/club. Typically that includes amplification for the drums, bass, guitar, and vocals, with monitors so the performers can hear the mix going to the audience.
Can you supply your own amps and/or backline: Yes.
